CHANGING KEYS

	I	vi	IV	V
Key G:	G	Em	C	D
Key C:	C	Am	F	G
Key A:	A	F#m	D	E
Key E:	D	Bm	G	A

USING A CAPO

You can change the key of the song by using a Capo. This is a common practice. It allows you to play the simpler chords but change the key to suit your voice.

For example if you play the song in the key of G and put the Capo on the second fret you can raise the song to the key of A. That's one whole step from G to A.

The Capo usually works best if you use it within the first four frets. After that the chords sound very high pitched. Experiment a little and see what works best for you.

I'm Tomas Michaud, an American born guitarist and music educator with a French Canadian heritage.

I first developed my Starland Guitar System in 1982 when my 9 year old daughter asked me to teach her guitar. Since then I've helped thousands of students experience the joy of making music either myself or through my trained instructors.

When I'm not making guitar instruction videos I'm creating my own beautiful music and currently have seven CDs of Contemporary Instrumental World Music including, my latest top ten charting "Beauty and Fire".
